FOCH TO CONFER WITH GERMANS ABOUT DANZIG

Berne, March 31.—The German government has decided to send Nathan Erzberger to Spa to confer with Marshal Foch regarding the Danzig situation, according to a Berlin dispatch today.

London, March 31.—The Berlin correspondent of the Mail, said today there is good reason to believe Germany will give way regarding the Danzig question, if the allies will agree that Polish troops shall not actually remain in Danzig pending the establishment of peace.

Berlin, March 31.—Hope grew in official circles here today that the Danzig question would be settled without a break with the allies. The newspapers approve the proposal for further negotiations with the allies regarding their demand that Polish troops be permitted to land at Danzig. Marshal Foch is said to have extended the invitation for a plenipotentiary to meet him at Spa to discuss this matter. The strike at Essen is increasing. More than forty thousand workers under Spartacan leadership are demanding a general strike throughout central Europe.

LUDENDORF GIVES ADVICE TO GERMANS

Berlin, March 31.—General Ludendorff, writing to the Militarische Korrespondenz, says:

"Do not bend your will before the enemy who wants to impose a peace deviating from President Wilson's fourteen points. Do not accept a peace of destruction."

Speaking at Weimar, War Minister Moske denied that the Germans are conducting an offensive in the Baltic region.

ROBBERS FAIL TO CRACK VAULT AT CLEVES, OHIO, BANK

Cincinnati, O., March 31.—Sixty-three cents and $3.23 in postage stamps were stolen from a drawer at the cashier's window in the Harrison County National Bank at Cleves early yesterday. Three bank robbers are believed to have devoted two hours to accomplishment of this task.

Marshal Roland Adams believed the trio became disgusted and left Cleves in an automobile.

While an attempt was made to get into the vault where a fortune awaited them, the robbers apparently were not equipped for the work. Screws were drawn from the frame surrounding the locked doors, but that was the extent of their efforts.

HUNGARY'S EX-PRESIDENT HELD BY REDS

Count Michael Karolyi.

Count Michael Karolyi, former president of Hungary, has been arrested by the reds and is likely to be one of their first victims. His arrest by the soviet surprises European observers in view of the generally accepted report that he had voluntarily surrendered the government to the reds in revenge for the allies' failure to give material aid to Hungary.

CURTIS GEYER WRITES TO HIS MOTHER FROM CAMP MILLS N. Y.

Curtis Geyer, who is one of the Xenia young men who has seen much active service in France, is back in the U. S. A. His first letter to his mother written on American soil is as follows:

Camp Mills, N. Y.

March 25, 1919.

Dear Mother:—

Here I am back in God's country, and only a few days from a civilian suit. It seems much like a dream.

I wrote last from Bonnetable. We left there via St. Jean and Beaumont for Brest on the first of March. We sailed from Brest on the 15th. We had a U. S. cruiser to cross on and the sailors were like brothers. We had a calm trip, only 8-12 days, and landed here yesterday.

We sighted the Statue of Liberty about 11 a. m. "There she is!" some one yelled, and a big yell went up. There was lots of noise when we passed her, but many found it convenient to get cinders in their eyes. The sight of the sky-scrapers was good for sore eyes. When we got in by the battery we met ferry boats crossing the river. The people all waved enthusiastically. I thought the boys would go crazy. "Look there! real American civilians, honest-to-God people, real people, real girls!" or the shore signs: "See that B. & O. sign!" "Sunshine Biscuit Co!" "Col-gates!" etc. Then a boat approached us bearing a large sign "Mayor's Committee of Welcome." It was covered with flags and people. They sailed slowly around the ship. Nobody exactly cried, but most every one of us was trying hard not to. You'd almost have thought we were a funeral from the faces of the men. But we let loose in yelling. As we docked, the ship band and a band on shore made noise. There were Red Cross women waving flags. We climbed all over the life boats, guns and smoke stacks to look at them.

We then landed and waited on the dock to get the passenger list checked up. Here the passage started, not us, but the women. The first had coffee, the second buns, the next bags of candy. Then a Salvation Army man gave out chocolate. A "Y" man gave handkerchiefs and post cards. As we got on the ferry boat a "Y" man gave us chocolate. We also got chewing gum. Then the mayor's boat came up and threw New York papers on board for everyone. The Salvation Army and the "Y" took up our post cards to mail. We sailed around the battery and up the East River to Long Island City, where we were entrained, and no "40 hommes, 8 chevaux" cars either—real American railroad and locomotive—one man with his pack to a seat! Can you beat it? And on each seat was a box of angel-food cake, that melted in one's mouth! Such a war whoop went up! Here the "Y" handed out cigarettes and the Red Cross some more coffee. A girl with them, evidently a daughter of one of the women, bought some chocolate and oranges and gave them away, and a truck on the platform had big apples and peanut brittle to sell. Everyone waved at the train. The car became

CASUALTY LIST BRINGS FATHER AND SON TOGETHER AFTER 15-YEAR SEARCH AND DAUGHTER IS FOUND IN SAME WEEK

Andrew Hunsacker with his long-lost son, John, and his daughter, Laundia.

The war has united and made happy one family instead of separating it. Andrew Hunsacker of Cincinnati, Ohio, has just found his son, John, who had been missing for seventeen years, and a week later he found his daughter,

Laundia. He had been searching for both of them for fifteen of the seventeen years. Circumstances forced the father to place the children in an orphanage when they were small and when he was in a position to reclaim them he could find no trace of them. His search ended the other day. One day he read his son's name in the paper in the casualty list among those gassed. As soon as the son was invalided home there was a happy reunion, and the daughter, reading of the meeting, discovered that she had a father and brother living, and within a week the three were happily united.

QUESTION OF REPARATION EXPECTED TO BE TAKEN UP BY "BIG FOUR"

Paris, March 31.—When the "Big Four" resumed its sessions today the question of reparations was expected to be the principal subject of discussion. An effort was to be made to dispose of this problem, which is understood to have been chiefly instrumental in delaying the peace work.

Premier Lloyd George, it was learned, was prepared to offer a substitute for the French plan presented last week which proposed that France's share of indemnities be $16,000,000,000.

President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George are said to feel that $16,000,000,000 was excessive, inasmuch as from $25,000,000,000 to $40,000,000,000 has been agreed on as the maximum of reparations.

In addition to inducing France to accept a lower figure for reparation, the other allies will seek to reconcile the French claim to the Saar Valley with Wilson's position that no territory won distinctly German must become a French possession.

Annexation of the Saar Valley, it is felt, would be likely to create a new "Alsace-Lorraine" which would later be a fruitful cause for war. A compromise may be attempted by which France would obtain large quantities of coal from the Saar basin without actually converting that region into French territory.

President Wilson believes the peace situation is about ripe for a shown-down.

The president talked yesterday with American congressmen. One declared his belief the President is prepared to return to the United States when the conference's work is completed, tell the people the results were the best that could be obtained under the circumstances and then leave it up to the senate to accept or reject the treaty.

In this connection it was said the president evidently reached the conclusion that he could not obtain a clause definitely protecting the Monroe Doctrine and was nearly ready to accept the covenant without specific Monroe Doctrine section. Congressmen said the consensus of the delegations position was that there ought to be some provision in the league constitution whereby zones of primary responsibility would be established, thereby relieving America of the necessity for participating in minor European squabbles.

DIFFICULTY BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND THE JAPANESE SEEMS TO GROW

Washington, March 31.—The state department today asked the American embassy at Mexico City for a full report on the alleged Mexican concession of land in Lower California to Japanese interests.

In making this announcement, the department added it had no official word from Mexico on the reported concession, was unable to determine as yet whether the land was the same as that to be sold two weeks ago by the California and Mexican Land Company to Japanese interests whether the concession had actually been made or report of it merely sent out as a "feeler."

BY ROBERT J. BENDER.

Washington, March 31.—Matters of irritation between the American and Japanese governments are beginning to accumulate.

Issues involving marked difference in viewpoint on the part of the respective nations include:

1. The question of race equality before the peace conference in Paris.
2. The Tien clash between American soldiers and Japs.
3. The question of American co-operation with the Japs in Siberia against real and alleged bolshevist factions.

4. Efforts of Japanese to get a foothold in Lower California.

Mexico has suddenly injected herself into the situation, according to advices here by granting concessions to Japanese corn corporation to exploit agricultural lands in Lower California. The land is understood to have been the property, by concession in 1884, of the Mexican Land Company.

The Mexican government says this concession is now void and the property belongs to the government.

This government is trusting to the Japanese ministry to prevent any straining of existing amiable relations.

Reliable dispatches today reported the Japanese war minister announced in the diet that American troops in Siberia had refused to fight with the Japs against the bolsheviks, owing to an apparent difference in Japanese view point as to what constituted a bolshevist.

MORE TRANSPORTS ARRIVING IN AMERICA

New York, Mar. 31.—The following transports arrived here today: Maui, Siboney, and Alaskan.

The Culgoa is scheduled to arrive this afternoon.

WARNING IS ISSUED AGAINST BOLSHEVİK MENACE IN AMERICA

New York, March 31.—The American Defense Society today launched a campaign against bolshevism in the United States, a warning was issued, written by Dr. W. T. Hornaday, a trustee of the society, wherein he said:

"At this very moment the lying lure of bolshevism is working day and night to plunge the whole civilized world into chaos and ruin. Russia, Germany, England and America already are heavily involved. Spain, Sweden, Egypt and Chile, are in the preliminary stages.

"In America high-brow socialism, I. W. Wism, non-partisan, leagueism and bolshevism are in spirit and in purpose one and the same thing."

This statement concluded by saying: "Bolshevism is a source of danger to the state."

In connection with Dr. Hornaday's utterance, the society issued a statement saying:

"Through information obtained from 300 branches of the society in the United States, Hawaii, Porto Rico and Alaska, it has been found that reports of the spread of this menace to good governments are not unwarranted."

According to information obtained by the United Press in all parts of the United States so-called "soviets" have been organized in but three places, Seattle, Portland and San Francisco. Efforts to get an estimate of the number of real bolsheviks in this country were unsuccessful, as the figures given by the police, radical leaders and others showed such wide variation in each town and there were so many ideas of what a bolshevik really is, that it was seen the estimates could not be considered accurate.

GIRLS OF LAND ARMY

(By United Press.)
London, March 15.—(By Mail.)—Girls of the Land Army are to share equally with ex-soldiers facilities for taking up small holdings in the Government's land scheme. Thousands of girls have signified their wish to continue working on the land, and the authorities have gladly acceded to their request, for the man—or woman—behind the plough is deemed the most active and remunerative asset of the State.

WOUNDED VETERAN OF WORLD WAR IS VISITOR IN XENIA

W. E. Stabley, veteran of the world war, survivor of the Argonne Forest and former Springfield newspaper man, spent Friday and Saturday in this city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clifford.

Mr. Stabley is wearing the gold bar on his right sleeve that signifies that he was injured in action, and he bears a scar on the right arm near the elbow that nearly cost him the entire arm. He was in the Argonne, amid flying machine bullets the cries of falling comrades and trees crashing to earth from the effect of big gun fire as if struck by lightning, when a Henie machine gun bullet clipped through the fleshy part of his right arm.

This was the last engagement for Stabley for he went to the hospital with the injured member and never got back into the fray. The arm was fixed up but while returning to this country on a transport recently the artery which was injured by the bullet, burst. It was then feared that the arm would have to come off, but surgeons saved it and while it still bothers him to some extent, he hopes to have it back in as good shape as ever shortly.

Mr. Stabley is now located at Camp Meade, Md., and is only enjoying a ten day furlough in this section. He was called last spring and went to Camp Beauregard, where he was a member of Co. D, 153rd Inf., 39th Division, until he landed in France when he was transferred to the 126th Inf., of the 32nd Division, with which outfit he saw action. He has been in hospitals for six months.

CONTRACT FOR NEW ROAD HAS BEEN LET

Contract for the improvement of 3.83 miles of the Columbus pike, known as the Columbus and Cincinnati inter-county highway, was awarded by the state Friday to the contracting firm of Kofforth, Casey and Mansberger of Richmond, Ohio, who submitted the lowest bid, $34,935.

There were seven bidders, and the second lowest bid of $35,929, was submitted by The Wilson Engineering and Contracting Company of this city.

The pike will be improved with waterbound macadam between Wilberforce and the west corporation line of Cedarville.

HUNGARY TO GIVE PASSAGE TO THOSE DESIRING TO LEAVE

COSSACK FORCES ARE FORCED BACK BY THE BOLSHEVİK

London, March 31.—Cossack forces in retreat before the Bolsheviki have given up half of their hard won Don territory, according to a dispatch dated March 17, received by the Times today from Ekaterinodar. The Cossacks are now holding the line of the Donets river.

The Bolsheviki official communique dated March 18 says:

"In the region of pinega (93 miles southeast of Archangel) we have assumed the offensive and have occupied Toronsjoe and strongly fortified positions near Ozero and Solianskoe."

FORMER CROWN PRINCE DECLARES HE IS NOT IDIOT

Copenhagen, March 31.—The former Crown Prince, interviewed by a correspondent of the Berlingske Tidende, admitted the possibility of his being tried by an international court, but declared he did not believe he would be executed. He stoutly maintained that he is not an idiot. He frankly admitted his unpopularity.

"People say I incited war," but Clemenceau has done so all his life," Friedrich Wilhelm was quoted as saying. "I was of the opinion Germany ought to be prepared, but I did not desire to cause war."

"I do not ask people to consider me especially intelligent, but I am no idiot or degenerate, as English and American papers say I am."

"I know Germany is the most hated nation in the world. Why? Because the Reichstag never voted any thing for propaganda until too late. When war began we commenced propaganda but, alas, what propaganda!"

The correspondent said the former Crown Prince is writing a book on the war.

JUST PLAIN ZAPH

Springfield, Ill., March 31.—Dr. Samatis D. Zaphyriades petitioned the circuit court here to change his name to Zaph. He thinks the last four syllables of the present form drive away customers.

TOLEDO RIOTERS STORM MEMORIAL HALL TO GET IN

Toledo, March 31.—When they were refused admission to Memorial hall, a city building, Sunday afternoon by city officials, where Eugene V. Debs was scheduled to speak, 5,000 persons stormed the place, broke windows and doors and then paraded the streets, crying "to hell with the mayor." And all the time Debs was in bed in a Cleveland hotel too ill to appear in public.

A substitute speaker for Debs appeared about 3:30 o'clock but when he attempted to make an address he was chased away by policemen.

More than 75 men were arrested including Thomas Devine Socialist member of the city council.

Charges of inciting to riot were placed against them, but after 300 policemen had succeeded in breaking up the mob, the prisoners were all released without bail.

Mayor Cornell Schrieber, who issued the order preventing the Debs' meeting, in a statement said that hereafter no meeting would be permitted anywhere in the city where it is suspected a man of radical tendencies will speak.

WELL KNOWN FARMER PASSES AWAY SUNDAY

Stephen Mills, well-known farmer of this section, died at his home on the road between New Burlington and Roxana near the Cornstalk school at one o'clock Sunday morning. Death was due to the infirmities of old age.

Mr. Mills had been a farmer all of his life and was very well known. He was 76 years of age at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife and three children. They are Mrs. Rosa Compton and Harvey Mills of this city and Mrs. Etta F. Reeves of New Burlington. He also leaves a brother, William Mills, who is a well-known auctioneer of New Burlington.

Funeral services will be held at the late home Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock and burial will be made in the Cassacreek meeting house cemetery.

TWENTY PER CENT INCREASE IN RATES

An increase of twenty per cent over the old telegraph rate for government and commercial service, will become effective April 1, the managers of the local Postal and Western Union offices have been notified. The increase does not affect the special rates granted newspaper, or special wires leased by press associations. The increase is the result of an order issued by Postmaster General Burleson, made necessary "to meet the increased cost of operation."

HANDSOME BUSTS OF GENERAL PERSHING DISPLAYED IN XENIA

Handsome life sized busts of General Pershing, which were brought from the east by J. C. Dodds, have been presented to the Commercial and Savings Bank and the Citizens' National Bank, by The Dodds-Marble Company. A third bust is at the offices of the Dodds company.

The busts are replicas of one by Sculptor O'Connell of Philadelphia, said to be the finest ever made of the commander of the American Expeditionary Forces. They are finished in fine gold bronze. The strong features of General Pershing, showing the force and determination of his character, are brought out excellently in the face of the figure. The busts are attracting much attention and admiration.

RECEIVES WORD OF HIS DAUGHTER'S DEATH

Mr. F. P. Lucas of this city, received word this morning of the death of his daughter, Mrs. Chas. E. Tracey, of London.

Until eight years ago Mr. and Mrs. Tracey were residents of this city, then moving to London where Mr. Tracey is connected with the Standard Oil Co.

The death of Mrs. Tracey came as a shock to the many friends and relatives. Death was due to pneumonia developing from influenza.

The deceased is survived by her husband and nine children: Walter of Camp Sherman; Carl of this city, and seven little ones at home. Also by Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Lucas, three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Harrison, Mrs. Ben Folk, Mrs. James Bostwick, all of this city, and two brothers, Ralph W. Lucas of Kentucky, and Henry H., with the A. E. F. in France.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

CEDARVILLE WOMAN DIES MONDAY NOON

Mrs. Ida Timmons Myers, wife of Bert Myers, died at her home in Cedarville at 1 o'clock Monday morning of pneumonia, after a short illness.

Mrs. Myers was a native of Indiana, and was born June 22, 1867. Her first marriage was with Fred Sturtevant, who died about 25 years ago, and in August 1900 she became the wife of Bert Myers. Their home had been in Cedarville for a number of years.

Mrs. Myers is survived by her husband, two sons, Frank Sturtevant of Chillicothe, and Harold Myers of Cedarville, and one brother, Col. Charles S. Timmons U.S. A., who is zone supply inspector, and located at Chicago. He will reach Cedarville Tuesday morning to attend the funeral of his sister, which will be held at the home Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

YOUNG MATRONS ENTERTAIN FOR THEIR SISTER-IN-LAW

Mrs. Robert H. Kingsbury and Mrs. Weir Cooper were charming hostesses Friday afternoon when a company was invited to meet their attractive sister-in-law, Mrs. R. Reyburn McClellan, at the home of Mrs. Kingsbury on Rogers street.

The guests were invited to bring their sewing, and a delightfully informal afternoon was spent in the lovely home. Throughout the rooms, wicker baskets filled with flame colored sweet peas made an exceedingly pretty note.

The Misses Ann Weaver, Louise Shaffer, Helen Dodds and Mrs. David Kyle assisted in the hospitalities. A two course luncheon was served. Mrs. Harry Waddle of Springfield, was among the guests, of whom there were forty enjoying the afternoon.

Mrs. McClellan has only recently become a resident of Xenia, her husband, Dr. Reyburn McClellan having commenced the practice of his profession here.

WILSON MAY USE BIG STICK TO GET SPEED

BY CARL D. GROAT.

Paris, March 31.—President Wilson was understood today to have threatened to use the club of "pitiless publicity" in an effort to speed up the peace conference.

According to persons close to the president he is said to have intimated to the others of the "Big Four" that unless their sessions begin to show real results he will publish to the world the facts of who is delaying the peace settlement and why.

MRS. J. W. GIBBONS OF NEAR BELLBROOK DIES SATURDAY

Mrs. Florence Nellie Gibbons, wife of J. W. Gibbons, died at her home on the Van Eaton road near Bellbrook, Saturday at 9 o'clock. She had been ill three months of influenza and complications.

Mrs. Gibbons was 50 years of age, and was born and spent all her life in Sugarcreek township. She was a daughter of the late John Debar. She was married to Mr. Gibbons November 24, 1892. Surviving her are her mother, Mrs. Margaret Debar, her husband and two children, Mildred and Ruth Edith. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church at Bellbrook and of the Bellbrook lodge of the Daughters of America.

The funeral will be held at the home at 1 o'clock, and at the M. E. church, in Bellbrook at 2 o'clock, Tuesday.

A Woman's Health

means everything to her. But so many of our American women are worn out, anemic, and suffering from the peculiar weakness of womanhood. To build up, strengthen and cure these weaknesses, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a woman's truest, herbal tonic. It does not contain a particle of alcohol, nor anything deleterious to women's delicate constitution. For fifty years it has proven its merit, and can now be had in tablet as well as liquid form at almost any drug store, or send 10c for trial package of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. Write Dr. Pierce for free medical advice if there is need.

That weak back accompanied by pain here and there—extreme nervousness—sleeplessness—maybe faint spells, chills or spasms—all are signals of distress for a woman. She may be growing from girlhood into womanhood—passing from womanhood to motherhood—or later suffering from middle life, which leaves so many wrecks of women. At any of these periods of a woman's life, "Favorite Prescription" is the best herbal tonic and nerve prescriber for just such cases by a physician of vast experience in the diseases from which women suffer.

MRS. CHARLES TRACY DIES IN LONDON

Mrs. Laura Lucas Tracy, wife of Charles Tracy, died at her home in London, Monday morning after one week's illness of influenza-pneumonia. A message was received early Monday by Xenia relatives notifying them of her serious condition, and her sister, Mrs. Wm. Harrison, started for London at once. Before she reached there Mrs. Tracy had died.

Mrs. Tracy spent most of her life in this city, and was married here, but for the last nine years her home was in London. She is survived by her husband, who is agent for the Standard Oil Company at London, and seven children; her father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lucas, and three sisters in this city, Mrs. James Bostwick, Mrs. William Harrison and Mrs. Ben Folk. There are two brothers, Ralph, of Cincinnati, and Henry, who has just arrived in this country from overseas, and is at Camp Dix, N. J.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

AUTO BUS DRIVER ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE

Charles Breeze, of Wilmington, who has been operating an automobile bus line between this city and Wilmington for some time, has been arrested on a warrant sworn out by Elmer Craig, of Wilmington, charging him with contributing to the delinquency of his daughter, Kattie, a minor.

Breeze was arrested in Dayton and brought to Wilmington by Deputy Sheriff Kirk, where he appeared in juvenile court and was placed under $500 bond. Bond was furnished by Fred Breeze and D. F. McCaoy as sureties. The hearing will be held Tuesday.

According to affidavit filed by Craig, Breeze "courted the love and affection of his daughter, and he took her riding in the night time." It is said that even more serious charges are contained in the affidavit regarding Breeze's conduct with the girl. She is 17 years old.

MAN WHO LED THE THIRTY-SEVENTH

Maj. Gen. F. E. Farnsworth.

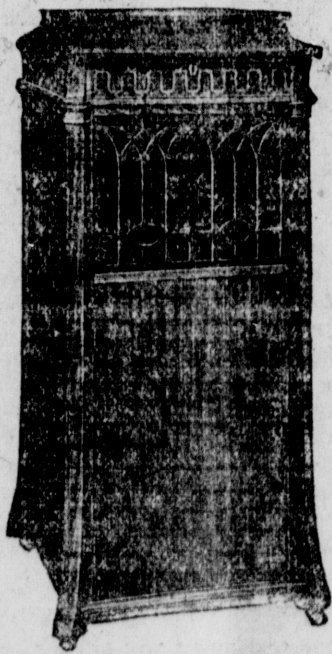

Major General Farnsworth, who was drafted from the regular army to lead the Thirty-seventh division, which arrived recently in New York after ten months overseas, tells vivid stories of the division's hard fighting. The division is composed in the main of former Ohio national guardsmen and a large party of Ohioans greeted the general and his men upon their return.

Let Action Follow Thought.
A philosopher once said that there is no value to any thought, no matter how fine or noble, unless it is transformed into action. If you feel uplifted by beautiful music, do something that will tally with your mood, and then the music has been worth while. If you read something that is inspiring, at once do something, no matter how small, that is a little different and a little superior to your routine. The theory applies with equal truth to the reading of books as more than a pastime.—Chicago American.

Stop the "Snuffles"

If you want to make your distressed babies easy and comfortable, give Foley's Honey and Tar.

It is just what they ought to have for feverish colds, coughs, "snuffles," and wheezy breathing. It stops croup, too. Foley's Honey and Tar tastes good and the little ones like it. It contains no morphine, chloroform or other drug that you wouldn't like to give to young children. Do not accept a substitute.

Mrs. B. H. Garrett, Schoolfield, Va., writes: "My baby was stricken with a severe cough and cold at one month old. I gave him ten to fifteen drops of Foley's Honey and Tar every three hours and it surely did help him. He hasn't been sick a day since."

HANDSOME GIFT MADE MAJOR WURM BY HOME CADETS

Major John C. Wurm, retiring military instructor at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, was paid an additional testimonial of good will, when the cadets of his battalion, presented to him a very handsome Knights of Columbus watch chain as a farewell gift.

The presentation took place late Saturday afternoon at the close of a dress parade of the battalion. The adjutant, Captain Van Skoyk, stepped forward and gave a command for a formation. Then while the cadets were in that position, he made a little speech and presented their gift to the instructor. Following so closely upon the gift from the officers of the battalion, and that of Home employees, Major Wurm was taken completely by surprise, and while he was able to make a speech of acceptance, he was so touched that he found it necessary to delay his complete expression of thanks to the lads until the battalion was back at the armory.

Major Wurm is leaving the Home Tuesday, and goes to Bellevue, O., where he will enter business. He has been at the Home nearly eight years. He is a Spanish-American war veteran, and served in Cuba.

FAIRFIELD

Friends here have been advised that Mrs. B. F. Wilson is a victim of influenza at her home at Elm Grove, W. Va., Hotel Maples.

Leroy Bates and wife removed to Ray Wilson's farm Saturday formerly George Loughstret's homestead on the Xenia pike three miles east of this place.

The following were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Gebhart and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strain, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Teague all of Dayton, and Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Schildtknecht and daughter, Miss Della.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beaver, are entertaining a son, since Friday the 21st.

Harry Covault is indisposed with eye affection caused by a severe pain in the head.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Pierce spent Sunday with Mr. Edwin Kniesley and wife of Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. George Epping and daughter, Betty Jane, have left the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Geis to make their home at Springfield, Ill., for the present.

Mrs. Althia R. Dunbar, (nee Rockafield) left Tuesday the 18th after spending over a month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rockafield and many relatives and friends for her home at Chateaugay Basin, Province Quebec.

Soldiers on the Wilbur Wright field will be leaving March 31 for their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Shuey of Dayton, spent Monday at the Shuey-Rockafield.

Extract in Treatment of Kidney and Bladder Ailments.

Allays Inflammation and Restores Normal Action.

Just a simple extract of green corn silk compounded with other simple, well-known drugs, seems to bring results in the treatment of Kidney and Bladder disorders that might almost be classed as miraculous. Congestion and inflammation of the kidneys and bladder cause untold distress. Pains in back and hips, frequent desire to eliminate, causing restless sleep soon wears out the patient's vitality and more serious results follow neglect.

The soothing, balmy effect of Balmwort Tablets are noticed quickly as the inflammation is allayed and the organs are toned up to act as nature intended.

Alexander T. Matya, 30 Elm street, Passaic, N. J., writes: "I have been taking Balmwort Tablets for Kidney and Bladder trouble and find they give me the most beneficial results."

Stop your suffering and nightly distress by asking your leading druggist for a tube of Balmwort Tablets. Price, $1.00.—Adv.

Specializing On REDFERN CORSETS

They're a joy just to hold in the hand—flexible (take the center and bend it in the palm of your hand) shapely at sight and pretty to look at—quite as pretty as the prettiest bit of lingerie—in fact, the designer's aim is to create in the Redfern a garment that shall (if we may say so) be a fitting companion for exquisite lingerie. Flatly applied trims of course, but dainty in pattern and lace in weave.

There are styles, too, with silk and cotton embroidered edges; yes, ribbons, too; but these are not really the important points; they are only the surface attractions—the shape is the real test and here is where Redfern truly excels. If the proper model is selected—it's marvelously satisfying in the first fitting.

It was our pleasure to look over many makes this season, all of which, or at least some of all, we saw fitted; but the Redfern was too convincing; we saw every model fitted, and it is now our "special," as it were.

To be sure, Redferns are sold elsewhere in our city, but that, too, proves their value. We are glad to have others sell them, but you will find a larger assortment here since we specialize.

Prices of new Redfern models are not high—from three to fifteen dollars. Fittings may be made by appointment.

THE EDITOR'S APOLOGY.

When an editor is thinking of what to write about next, one of the troubles is to pick a subject from the thousand world events that crowd each other. But most of these are dished up in the telegraph dispatches to such extent that everybody is surfeited, and don't want to read editorials on the subject. And yet the editor must write on something in which his readers feel an interest or his column will be voted N. G.

Now there is the subject of the Weather. Oh, says the reader, that is too common place, too trite. Yes, but we defy the oldest inhabitant to tell of a winter which has behaved better than the one we have just had—one of which more kind words could be said. Just think of the praise due it for coal saved by rich and poor—think of the genial weather in which the laboring man could find work and pay—think of the thousand reasons for thankfulness to God for so mild and comfortable a winter.

Think of the contrast between this winter and the never-to-be forgotten, frightfully bitter and suffering one, last winter. This winter was in California and so escaped the rigors of the East, but the news even by mail seemed chilly. With the Hudson river frozen, and hundreds of cars of coal on one side, and thousands of people freezing on the other side, it was a time never to be forgotten. Yes, in contrast with last winter the past one has been a most welcome boon.

And now we are entering Spring. Glad we are that winter lingering will not chill the lap of May this year. Delightful spring! Many are the bouquets the poets have cast at thy feet. How more genial than usual seems the warm sunshine, fructifying into life the dormant sap of all nature. Perhaps we had been a little discouraged, but with the cheer of glorious spring life takes on a new aspect. The blood seems quickened in the veins.

The year is repeating its old story again. We come once more to its most charming chapter. The violets and mayflowers are its beautiful emblems. How cheering to us when we open again these inspiring pages in the book of life.

Everybody has a choice of seasons. Give us glorious Spring, emblem of resurrected life.

Well, yes, of course we do have some rainy days in the spring, just enough to liven things up and turn the brown and dried-up grass into a living green, charming to the eye, after the somberness of months. How delightful the gentle ripple of the "rain on the roof." Always be an optimist, like glorious Riley. It was raining when a correspondent asked him to write a stanza as a souvenir of the occasion. He quickly wrote the following on the back of an envelope:

"In this existence, dry and wet,
Will overtake the best of men—
Some little shift o' clouds 'll shut
The sun off now and then;
"And mebbly while you're wonderin'
You've fool-like lent your umbrella!
And want it out! pop the sun,
And you'll be glad you hain't got none!"

SURPRISE PARTY AT KIERNAN HOME

John Kiernan, who recently was discharged from the service after having spent a year in the coast artillery, and his sister, Miss Grace Kiernan, who is home from Miami University for the spring vacation period, were surprised Saturday evening, by a group of young folks at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Kiernan on West Second street.

There were twenty-four in the party. After an evening spent in games, dancing and singing college songs, ice cream, cake and candies were served. Easter chicks were the favors.

Among the guests were John Price of Chicago, a Dennison student who is the guest of Lawrence, Prugh, and Moses Moorehead, of Muskingum, a college friend of Robert Moore, who is his guest for the spring vacation.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S BELATED CONVERSION.

There no longer is any doubt that under the direction of President Wilson himself the constitution of the league of nations is being amended in Paris in such a way as to make continued senatorial opposition to it extremely difficult.

If the President had admitted or even suggested while he was in Washington that amendments to the constitution would be considered, the opposition would not have grown as it did. But, keeping his own counsel, Mr. Wilson let it be understood that no amendments were possible, and then, as soon as he reached Paris, set about to put admittedly vital changes into the draft of the league agreements.

The dispatches from Paris clearly indicate the President was far more deeply impressed by the objections raised to the league in this country than he was willing to admit while here. They also show that the President finally came to feel that he would endanger the ratification of the league if he still adhered to his announced policy of no amendments.

In the face of declarations by Ex-President Taft, by Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University, and other friends of the league, that certain amendments were desirable, Mr. Wilson was left virtually alone in the stand that no changes of importance should be attempted. His fear that the opening of the covenant to amendment might defeat it entirely was not shared by his colleagues in Paris.

So at last the more important amendments which have been suggested are being written into the constitution, and there is no doubt that these changes will mollify many of the Senators who have declared themselves against the league as originally proposed.

NEVER MORE

The following Shakespearean parody is taken from the Midland Parody and Pharmaceutical Review:

NEVER MORE.
To drink or not to drink, that is the question;
Whether 'tis better, on the whole to suffer
The stings and torments of a thirst unsatisfied,
Or to take gin against a sea of cravings,
And by assuaging, end them? To drink—to sleep—
No more; and by a drink, to say we end
The headache, and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to—'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To drink—to sleep—
To sleep—perchance to dream;—ay, there's the rub:
For in delirium tremens, what may come,
When by the man of poker we're pursued,
Must give us fits! That's the respect
That makes our soberness of so long life;
For who would bear the kicks and knocks of time,
The poor man's wrongs, the proud man's contumely,
The gibes of scolding wife, the baby's squalls,
The insolence of office and the spurs
That patient merit of policemen's takes
When he himself might his quietus make
With a mint julep? Who would fardels bear,
To grunt and toil under a weary life;
But that the dread of something after drink—
That awful state of headache, after which
A feller's so knocked out—puzzles the will;
And makes us rather bear the ills we have
Than fly to others that we dread so much?
Thus, conscience doth make cowards of us all;
And thus the native thirst for brandy today
Sickles o'er with wholesome dread of ill,
And enterprises of great thought and study;
With this regard, their currents turn awry,
And lose the name of action! —Exchange.

High Army Officers.

A major general heads each army corps; a brigadier general heads infantry brigade; a colonel heads each regiment; a lieutenant colonel is next in rank below a colonel; a major heads a battalion; a captain heads a company; a lieutenant heads a platoon; a sergeant is next below a lieutenant, and a corporal is a squad officer.

Violin "Camouflage."

The word "feet" is of Latin origin, and means made, or manufactured. It was in general use by the Cremona luthiers; and has been copied by modern makers, chiefly for deception. The modern imitators of old violins retained the old form of affixing the date,

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

BARBARA IS ENLIGHTENED AS TO HER HUSBAND'S SCHEMES

CHAPTER XLIX.

After that they talked more quietly. I had to listen very closely to catch anything of what they were saying. But they seemed to be arguing. Neil spoke more loudly than the other men, and I would occasionally catch a sentence.

"Others do the same thing," was one. "Why shouldn't I make a little money selling shares in oil lands as well as other men?" was another. Then: "You know as well as I do that oil has been found on that tract. Where it has been found once, and so near, it is a good gambling chance, it may be found on my land."

"Do you own that land?" it was Frederick who asked the question. "I have an option on it." Just then there was a scraping of chairs and I hurriedly abandoned my position and scurried up-stairs.

What did it all mean? Surely, as he had said, Neil had as much right to make money as other men. If oil had been found, wasn't he also justified in thinking that it would again be found on land evidently so near other wells? Then he had told Frederick that he had an option on the land. Why in the world wasn't he all right in his business ideas? They seemed sound to me, yet Mr. Frederick seemed to think otherwise—had even talked of "jail." I shuddered as I recalled his words:

"I tell you, Forbes, they could put you in jail for what you have done." Then, "For God's sake, man, stop it!"

Would a man of his, Frederick's type, say such a thing without having a good reason—or what he thought one? I felt sure he was speaking honestly, yet like many other wives I gave Neil credit for being a better business man, knowing a bit more about making money than other men. "Mr. Frederick didn't understand," I thought as I undressed. Neil would be up soon, and he hated to see me sitting up so late, especially since baby came.

It was nearly an hour later when Neil came up-stairs. I was awake and so sat up in bed to talk with him while he undressed.

"What in the world were you men quarreling about?" I asked.

"We weren't quarreling."

"You talked awfully loud."

"Perhaps."

"Who is Mr. Black?"

"One of the company—How did you know he was here?"

"I heard the name when I passed the door."

Neil looked sharply at me, but said nothing. At first I was inclined to tell him what I had heard, what Mr. Frederick had said. Then I looked at him, and I just couldn't! I could not insult him by repeating what I had overheard. He looked so far removed from a man who would do anything the least bit crooked, that I felt myself blush and was glad of the half-light so that he would not see it.

"What else did you hear?" the question was so unexpected, I started. Should I tell him? He himself had given me the opportunity. Then once more as I looked at him I found it impossible to accuse him of anything wrong, and hastily prevaricated:

"I came up-stairs, you know; so while I heard talking, it was impossible to tell what you were saying."

"That means that you tried?"

"I did not stop on the stairs, if that is what you mean. I came directly up." Again I had evaded the truth.

"Well we had it hot and heavy. Frederick is an old crank. He is about a thousand years behind the times in his business methods. This is a hustling age, I can tell you, and you have got to get ahead of the other fellow or he will get ahead of you as sure as shooting."

My uneasiness returned. Get ahead of the other fellow? It was such speeches as this that worried me.

"But—to get ahead of the other fellow," as you say, you don't have to do anything wrong." I made the statement, instead of asking a question.

"No, of course not! what put that

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—coils of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

HAWAIIANS TO GIVE A CONCERT

The Lilioukalani Hawaiians named for the beloved ex-queen of the Hawaiian Islands, this quartette of native Hawaiians present a program of variety and charm that has been received in America with enthusiasm for several seasons.

These popular musicians have been associated together for several seasons, and their work, as musicians and entertainers has been of such a uniformly high quality that they have established new high-water marks in point of attracting patrons to lyceum and chautauqua courses. They present, through the medium of songs, instrumental numbers, folk dances, etc., a picture of life in the South Sea Islands. Native instruments which have attained a great popularity in America in recent years are largely used, and the program covers a wide range, being interesting, unusual and altogether attractive.

This attraction will be given at Beaver church Wednesday evening, April 2nd, under auspices of Beaver Grange.

Showed Greatness in Youth.

At the age of 14, and when a sophomore at Cambridge, Francis Bacon left the university in disgust, declaring that the whole system of education was radically wrong at Cambridge and everywhere else. And Bacon lived to prove that he was conservatively right in his contention. Swift despised his teachers because he knew more than they did, and therefore had difficulty in securing a degree.

Y. W. C. A. WORK TO BE RE-ORGANIZED IN STATE OF OHIO

Miss Arline Alice Trow of Reading, Mass., has been appointed national executive organizer of the Young Women's Christian Association, with jurisdiction over five states.

A dispatch to this paper says that Miss Trow will assume charge of and reorganize each city in Ohio, including Xenia. According to schedule, her work will be completed next January or February, it being her intention of completely reorganizing the association in each city in accordance with ideas of her own, remaining in each city as long as it is necessary to accomplish her purpose. Miss Trow, who is well known throughout New England, and the better part of New York State, for her remarkable successes in organization work, will be allowed but one assistant in each state, and will render a detailed report covering exact conditions at each city, direct to Washington.

Local women interested in the Y. W. C. A. say that so far as they are aware, there will be no reorganization of the Y. W. in Xenia, although national headquarters was urged that this be done.

They had heard nothing regarding Miss Trow's appointment.

Where Blame Lies.

Life starts most of us out with an excellent endowment of strength. It is our own abuse of this strength that brings about our ailments. Life starts most of us out with courage and will. It is our own neglect of these qualities that sets courage and will dwindling. Life starts most of us with very good looks or with looks that are good enough. It is our own neglect of personal care that makes us plain looking.

Starving in the Midst of Plenty

Acid-Stomach Steals Strength and Good Feelings From Millions

One of the worst features of acid-stomach is that very often it literally starves its victims in the midst of plenty. And the strange thing about it is that the people with acid-stomachs seldom know what their trouble really is.

No matter how good or wholesome the food may be, or how much they eat, they do not gain in strength. This is clearly explained by the fact that an acid-stomach cannot properly digest food. Instead of healthy, normal digestion, the excess acid causes the food to sour and ferment. Then when this mass of sour, fermented food, charged with excess acid, passes into the intestines, it becomes the breeding place for all kinds of germs and toxic poisons, which in turn are absorbed into the blood and in this way distributed throughout the entire body. And that is exactly why it is that so many thousands of people eat and eat and keep on eating and yet are literally starving in the midst of plenty. Their acid-stomachs make it absolutely impossible for them to get the full measure of nourishment out of their food. And it doesn't take long for this poor nourishment to show its ill effects in a weakened, emaciated body.

Young man: "My stomach doesn't hurt me." That may be true because many victims of acid-stomach do not actually suffer stomach pains. Then again, there are millions who suffer all kinds of aches and pains—headaches, rheumatic twinges, gout, lumbago, pains around the heart and in the chest—who never dream that an acid-stomach is the real cause of the trouble.

Naturally, the sensible thing to do is to strike right at the very cause of this trouble and clean the excess acid out of the stomach. There is a quick, easy way to do this. A wonderful new remedy quickly removes the excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is EATONIC. Made in the form of tablets—they are good to eat—just like a bit of candy. They literally absorb the injurious excess acid and carry it away through the intestines. They also drive the blot out of the body—in fact you can fairly feel it work. Make a test of EATONIC in your own case today. Get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist. See for yourself how surely it brings quick relief from those painful attacks of indigestion, bitter heartburn, belching, disgusting food repeating, that awful bloated, lumpy feeling after eating and other stomach miseries. Banish all your stomach troubles as completely as you forget you have a stomach. Then you can eat what you like and digest your food in comfort without fear of distressing after effects.

If EATONIC does not relieve you, it will not cost you one penny. You can return it to your druggist and get your money back. So if you have the slightest question about your health—if you feel you are not getting all the strength out of your food—if you are not feeling tip-top, ready for your work, full of vim and vigor—do give EATONIC a fair trial this very day and see how much better you will feel.

How Long Must I Suffer From the Pangs of Rheumatism?

Is there no real relief in sight?

Doubtless like other sufferers, you have often asked yourself this question, which continues to remain unanswered.

Science has proven that your Rheumatism is caused by a germ in your blood, and the only way to reach it is by a remedy which eliminates and removes these little pain demons from your blood. This explains why liniments and lotions can do no permanent good, for they cannot possibly reach these germs which infest your blood by the millions. S. S. S. has been successfully used for Rheumatism for more than fifty years. Try it to-day, and you will find yourself at last on the right track to get rid of your Rheumatism. You can get valuable advice about the treatment of your individual case by writing to the Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. D, Atlanta, Ga.

SPRINGFIELD STORE IS BURGLARIZED

Springfield, O., March 31.—The safe of Salzer Brothers' Furniture store here was blown open Sunday morning and Liberty bonds, War Savings stamps, money and jewelry to the value of $1,700 taken. More than $200 in money was overlooked by the robbers.

A number of checks were left, but $200 worth of registered War Savings Stamps were taken.

The store adjoins the Tordt Toggery shop which was entered March 19, when nearly $1,000 worth of silk waists and underwear were stolen.

EAST CHURCH ST. IS INCLUDED IN PAVING PLANS

A communication to this paper from an East Church street resident, inquiring why East Church street was not included among the streets to be paved this summer, brought out the fact that the street will be paved, having been included after the list was published.

The street was first withdrawn from the list because the expense of paving it would be considerable, and it was thought that the great expenses attached to that street might tend to defeat the bond issue for the other and more important streets. Church street, not being a necessary approach to the city, was not considered as important as Home avenue, Cincinnati avenue and Dayton avenue, or the Commercial streets, such as Collier and Whiteman.

This decision was later reversed, when it was learned that the property owners on the street wanted the paving, for the cost to the city is slight.

Having street property owners adopted the right plan of obtaining paving on their street by presenting a petition to the commission, requesting the improvement.

The paving was ordered in at the last meeting of the City Commission, Thursday evening.

To Remove Paint.

Paint stains that are not fresh and yet have not entirely hardened can be softened by moistening them with ammonia and sprinkling them with a little turpentine. Roll the fabric up for fifteen or twenty minutes or soak it for several hours if necessary and then wash it with warm water and soap and hang it out in the air to remove the turpentine odor.

THE NEW SOUTH IS FOR WOMEN SUFFRAGE, ASSERTS SENATOR, AND THE WOMEN AGREE

Senator W. P. Pollock of South Carolina in his spirited appeal for the federal amendment in the senate said, "The new South is for woman suffrage." The southern women repeat it and at the national suffrage convention held recently in St. Louis they marshaled a surprising array of facts to support the statement. Among the southern women who were prominent at the convention were Miss Gertrude Weil, president of the North Carolina Suffrage Association, Mrs. John Glover South, of Kentucky and a newly appointed member to the National Woman's Republican committee, and Mrs. W. S. Holmes, state chairman of the Woman's Suffrage party of Louisiana.

MOTHER FINDS LITTLE SON DEAD IN SMALL POOL

Joseph Edward Lerner, two years and seven-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lerner, North avenue, Belmont, was drowned in a small pool of water in a neighboring yard, about 2 o'clock Sunday, according to verdict rendered by Coroner E. O. Wiloughby last night.

It was reported that the little boy had been playing in a rear part of the house, when he evaded his mother's attention and ran out into his back yard. From there he crawled through a fence into neighbor's yard, and was given a piece of cake, which he sat down to eat. Sometime later it was noticed that the lad had disappeared, and a search was immediately instituted.

After a short time his mother found the body of the boy in an excavation in a nearby lot, where a new house was under process of construction. There was about two and one-half feet of water in the excavation, and the child had evidently stumbled into it. His cries for assistance were unheard, and he was dead when found.

SEVERAL GREENE CO. MAIL CARRIERS IN CONTEST FOR TRIP

Several Greene County mail carriers have entered the salesmanship course and the Mackinac contest being conducted by the Ohio War Savings Stamp Committee in the interest of the Stamp drive.

The sale of stamps through the medium of the mail men is proving most successful and it is reported that there have been enormous increases in the sale in the counties where the Mackinac contest is being entered into lively by the carriers.

H. P. Wolfe, State Director of the War Savings Stamp Campaign is now urging individuals, corporations or organizations to donate additional trips to provide more prizes for the lucky carriers. The trip costs but seventy-five dollars and the committee is hoping to be able to provide enough trips to take care of more successful carrier salesmen all over the state.

Not the Right Tune.

A certain man was a very nice man and began to swear in the presence of his wife. The latter, thinking she might shame him into quitting, decided to imitate him and swore furiously, using the same words that he did. He looked at her in amazement for a few minutes and then remarked, "Well, you have the same words but you haven't got the right tune." Exchange.

OBITUARY

Josiah Franklin Beal, the subject of this notice, died, at his brother's wife's home, March 16, 1919, aged fifty-five years, five months and six days.

The deceased was a gentleman who was noted in the sphere in which he moved, as one possessing many rare and beautiful qualities of mind and heart. His kind and affectionate manners with no love for display, made him an agreeable and ever welcome guest. As a friend and neighbor, he was generous and kind. In his death the near relatives have lost a dear earthly friend and the community a consistent Christian man.

During a revival at the Maple Corner Church the deceased became a member of same, and a few years later moved his membership to the Mt. Tabor Church, of which he was a member at death. While he did not display his Christian faith to the outside world in church going, he did so in his straight-forward and honest life, always a liberal giver to every good and worthy cause. The deceased was one of the five children of W. G. and Mary A. Beal. Only one sister, Mrs. Clara J. Hupman, remains of the family to mourn the loss, Harlan having died Dec. 29, 1916, Mrs. Melba R. Hussey Jan. 1st, 1894, and Mary A. Beal 1878.

The deceased was born only a few hundred feet of the spot on which he died, most all his life being spent on his father's farm with the exception of a few years, after his father's death when he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Beal, and part of the time with Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Spahr. He never married, and was to his nephew and niece, Roscoe and Jessie Beal as a father, their worries were his worries, their triumphs his triumphs.

For several months he was a great sufferer, but bore his sufferings with Christian patience and resignation to the will of God.

Those wearisome days and nights are done, and he has left us. With bleeding hearts we gather around the casket, that contains all that is mortal of our dear brother, and with tear dimmed eyes we look into the cold grave, that must receive his body for a while, but we sorrow not as those without hope, for his life was crowned by a triumphant death. In this world we only meet to part. It is goodbye, goodbye, farewell floating in the air. We hear it at rail car window and at the steamboat wharf. Goodbye. Children hush it. Ah, that is the word that closes our meetings here, but not so in heaven. Welcome comes into the air, welcome at the gates, welcome at the house of many mansions, but no goodbye. Oh what a glorious place that must be which Christ prepares. In hope of meeting our brother in the sweet bye and bye let us bow in submission to Him who doeth all things well.

Take Mrs. Austin's Buckwheat for a quick breakfast. Three pound package for twenty-five cents.

The Palace of the Grand Lama.

THIBET is the land of mystery, and although it may not be wonderful when explored, we cannot help feeling a curiosity about the country and its inhabitants, chief of whom is the Grand Lama.

Only recently have explorers been able to enter Lhasa, the holy city, and tell of its people, and buildings. Of these edifices none will attract so much attention as the palace of the Lama.

A precipitous hill is heaped up in most fantastic style with halls and storied temples and monster tombs, but, on looking up from the foot of these heights, the whole series seems conjoined into one vast structure, surrounded by five gold plated, rectangular domes of great size.

The chief erection is the Red Palace, a building carried up to the height of eleven stories, and which is ascended from story to story by means of wooden ladders, with broad but difficult steps.

This is the central edifice, round which the others climb and cluster. The lower stories of this palace are built against the sheer face of the acclivity.

After passing up a steep path, avenue by trees, you arrive at the principal or eastern doorway of the whole establishment. Here first, is a very long hall, up which the visitor may ride on pony back, or may walk, just as he sees fit.

The hall is garnished on either hand by long rows of massive prayer cylinders, which, placed like barrels on end on well-oiled pivots, can easily be made to revolve with a touch as you walk along.

Each barrel has within it, wound compactly on the iron axle passing from top to bottom, innumerable lengths of paper, on which has been

SOME QUAIN SUPERSTITIONS

BRETTON maidens who desire to get married go to Sena, near Vannes, and stick pins in foot of the wooden statue of a saint called St. Ufurir, who marries off his devotees within the year. The pin must be well pushed in, for if it falls out the wedding will fall through; and it must be a strong, straight pin, for if it bends the future husband may be a hunchback or a cripple.

On the Channel, at Ploumanach, on a rock, accessible at low tide, there is a little shrine supported by four Roman columns, and dedicated to St. Quirec, who landed there from England in the sixth century. His wooden image is stuck full of pins.

So is the statue of St. Lawrence, near Quilfin. Here the pin should stick at the first push, for each failure postpones the marriage for a year.

There is an old tale told of an idiot who broke the statue of St. Miril on the eve of his fete. In order to hide his crime his mother made him take the saint's place. Now, upon the occasion of his feast, there was a great gathering of pious pilgrims, who stuck pins in St. Miril's knee for all sorts of wants. The first few pins of the day happened to be those of some children, and did not much hurt the saint's flesh. A stout old country woman then drove a corking pin so far into the poor idiot's leg that he jumped, howling over the devout and prostrate bodies, with the result that St. Miril is believed to have flown up into the skies.

When old worm-eaten decaying statues of the past are replaced by stone figures, which are, of course rebellious to pins, the pins are still brought by believers, but they merely place them around the foot of the effigy.

The Strange Little People of the North

Queer Customs of Eskimos Who Have a Civilization Peculiar to Themselves.

OF all the American aborigines the Eskimos seem to be the only ones who have retained their primitive fidelity and unshaken faith in the white man. A promise once made is an unbreakable pledge, and treachery is not tolerated among them, either in their dealings with their own people or with the stranger from the South. It was because the explorer could count with absolute certainty on the devotion and service of the natives that he dared to trust himself beyond the reach of civilization. What would have happened to many of our explorers if their companions had been Indians or the natives of the tropics or the Orient? The temptation to make away with the invading white man and strip him of his valuables would have been too great for the average native to withstand.

The Eskimo has been an amusing curiosity to the people of more civilized lands for several centuries. He shows the most striking difference not only from the Indians that actually live at the other extreme limit of the earth, but from the North American Indians that were neighbors before the coming of Columbus.

Families Have Two Homes.

The Eskimo shares with the nobility of Europe, the very rich of America, and most of the birds, the custom of having a summer residence remote from the home he inhabits in the winter. In his case the change of abode is not due to any desire for change of scenes and society. The birds do not know why, but the Eskimo does. His winter house can be endured during the winter; but when things begin to warm up it becomes simply intolerable, and even his blunt sense of smell revolts.

There is a common belief in our part of the world that the Eskimo lives in an igloo made of snow with blocks of ice for windows, and such huts are to be found even yet in the remote North. But they are by no means typical and probably never were. In the Eastern countries, Greenland and Labrador, the winter house is built of sod and stones, low roof formed of planks or beams and covered with sod. In the center of the roof there is a small opening for ventilation and the floor is usually below the surface of the surrounding earth. In the Western country the house is more commonly made entirely of planks, covered over with sod, and at the top there is a generous opening for the emission of smoke, for the Alaskan Eskimo cooks in the center of the room on a rudely constructed open hearth.

The more typical dwelling is nearly circular, having a long and very low entrance passage, which dips down rather abruptly and then rises as it reaches the opening to the room. There is frequently a small apartment opening off this long passage that is used for a kitchen, but many of the natives have no kitchen, using the soapstone lamp for lighting, heating and cooking.

Eskimo Apartment Houses.

Many of the houses are occupied by more than one family, and the room is shared in common, only the sleeping bench, that runs along the wall opposite to the side that has windows, being divided into separate stalls by low wooden partitions or screens of skin. Before each of these sections of the sleeping bench stands the family lamp, on which the family cooking is done. The openings in the walls are not such windows as we are accustomed to, but are glazed with the dried and prepared membrane of the seal, which is so nearly transparent as to admit almost all the light there is. In the extreme northern latitudes, where the long polar night consumes the greater part of the winter, the only source of illumination is the soapstone lamp and whale oil.

The summer home is very different and is removed as far as possible from the winter habitat—usually to the vicinity of the sea, where whaling and sealing are carried on. It is not a hut of stones and sod, but its form is as well established as that of the permanent structure. It is a tent with a double wall of skins, the highest point not being in the center as is customary with tents, but at one side, where a framework forms the doorway. Around the lower edge of the tent is a substantial mound of earth and stones, to turn away the water and keep the floor dry during even the hardest rains.

It has been said that these people of the North had no civilization whatever until some germs of culture were transplanted by the missionaries who have converted most of the tribes. This, however, is not true. Theirs does not happen to be our brand of civilization, but its results compare favorably with the achievements of Europe and the more highly developed parts of America, when we take into consideration the conditions under which they are compelled to live. Their literature and art are not of the same order as ours, yet they have manual skill to a remarkable degree, and their system of government is the most human and equitable system anywhere to be found. There is no such thing as owning property outright. The land belongs to the first man who takes possession of it, and when he is no longer making use of it, it is free to be occupied by the next man who comes along. If one family has an abundance of meat and oil and another is destitute because of sickness or ill-luck, the opulent divides with the needy and no obligation of future payment is incurred. The old Eskimo dialects contained no words for either scolding or swearing—the maintaining of a stolid silence being regarded as the greatest rebuke to an offender.

Great Mechanical Ingenuity.

There is no greater evidence of ingenuity and a certain kind of inventive genius than the kayak in which the Eskimo goes after his prey. It is the most remarkable boat in the world, and the race that could devise it is not wholly wanting in the qualities which make for the development of civilization. It is a shuttle-shaped canoe composed of dressed seal skins stretched over a light but very strong framework of whalebone, and the entire top is covered, except a small opening in the center, which is just large enough to admit the whale's legs and body. His "sleeker" shirt, made of water-proofed skin or whale gut, is attached to the rim of the cockpit in which he sits, and so perfectly adjusted that the light craft can turn over and over in the waves without the least danger of throwing the kayaker out or admitting a drop of water. The vessel is propelled by a double bladed oar.

Macaroni Dishes

THE origin of macaroni dates back to one of the Kings of Naples who constantly taxed the inventive power of his cook. One day a dish was put on the king's table, of which he highly approved, and upon inquiry as to the expense of the new dish, the cook mentioned a sum which in those days was thought high; thereupon the king exclaimed, "Buoni ma caroni," "Good but very dear." Hence the name.

This cereal preparation is made from hard wheats; the flour of these wheats is formed into a paste by addition of hot water, and after being well kneaded, is forced by special machinery through a pierced cylinder, which it leaves in the form of pipes or tubes. The pipes pass over a stove which partly cooks them, and then they are hung over a line to finish drying them. Macaroni absorbs a large amount of water while it is being cooked. One pound of macaroni weighs five pounds when it is boiled in sufficient water. So that macaroni alone would prove a rather bulky food.

By adding concentrated nourishment, such as is found in cheese, the balance is put right, and that is why cheese is generally served with macaroni. One pound of macaroni contains as much protein as two pounds of sirloin steak, and has over four times the nutritive value. It is an ideal dish when properly prepared, delicious, nourishing and cheap. It is an economical substitute for meat, and as it must be thoroughly cooked to be palatable, affords a digestible dish for nervous people, brain workers and all persons of sedentary occupations, who require food which is rich in protein and at the same time in concentrated form. It may be dressed with butter, cream and cheese; it may take the place of rice and barley in a soup, and is delicious if scalloped with oysters or cooked meat. It can be served with roasts, game or fish, or boiled with a chicken fricassee in place of dumplings. A popular dish is macaroni moistened with the liquor from mushrooms, the mushrooms first being stewed with the macaroni. It is to be regretted that macaroni does not enter more largely into the dietary of the working classes in America, not only because of its cheapness and the ease with which it may be prepared, but also because of its nourishing qualities.

Macaroni must always be put into boiling liquid to cook; soaking it before cooking quite spoils the flavor. In general macaroni requires plenty of water to cook it properly; at least two quarts of salted water should be used for a quart of a pound of macaroni. The paste may be put in whole or broken in short pieces, the water should be boiling hard, and should be salted. It should be stirred now and then to prevent sticking, and should be boiled until tender. Drain and plunge into cold water for a moment to prevent breaking and cohesion.

THE WORKSHOPS OF GREAT WRITERS

IT is pleasant to know in what surroundings the great works of literature had their birth. Not a few have been written in rooms of palatial splendor, others in rooms of poverty and misery; some amid the dim and fading brilliance of lamplight, still others among the birds and summer sunshine in the temple of Nature.

The study of the great French naturalist, Buffon, was a bare, desolate room, with a single chair, a table, and only one sheet of paper at a time upon it. The only ornament upon the walls was a print of Sir Isaac Newton hung just in front of where the writer sat.

In this dreary, cheerless room, in almost perfect seclusion, the author spent the larger part of his time, sometimes laboring fourteen hours a day at his desk—"the most luxurious and delightful moments of life," so he confessed.

Goldsmith's "Deserted Village" was written in a wretched room, with but one chair in it; and, when a visitor called, the author was obliged to take a seat in the window, while he gave the chair to his guest.

Samuel Johnson roomed for many years in a house in one of the narrow and gloomy courts on the north of Fleet Street, in London. In the garret was his library, a large and miscellaneous collection of books, falling to pieces and begrimed with dust. On the lower floor he sometimes, but very rarely, regaled a friend with a plain dinner—a veal pie, or a leg of lamb and spinach, and a rice pudding.

The workshop of Charles Dickens, at Gadshill, was a sunny, well-lighted room on the ground. The novelist's writing desk stood at a window, where the light was full and strong. Cases filled with books were on two sides of the room. All of his later novels were mostly written in this cozy room.

Washington Irving wrote his "Tales of the Alhambra" and the "Conquest of Granada" while an inmate of the old palace fortress of the Moorish kings, surrounded by everything that could call up the associations of the past. His later works were written in his cozy library at the old homestead known to us as "Sunnyside," overlooking the Hudson River.

NOW COMES THE TAX ON CLOTHES AND LUXURIES

The public has paid its income tax, and is rejoicing—but not for long. For now comes the acting internal revenue collector and proclaims that on May 1 the new taxes will go into effect on clothes, on sporting goods, and on the off-putting almost ubiquitous camera.

A glance at the schedule, however, relieved the mind of one woman who was figuring just how much money she could invest in clothes before the fateful day.

For, lo! those law-makers evidently reconsidered that proposal to tax all those costing over 50 cents, and all suits over $35. Mere man in buying hats will have to hesitate at $5, while a halt on caps is called at the $2 mark.

The lawmakers took cognizance of the fact, however, that women's bonnets come just as high as hats themselves, so milady can revel in all kinds of headgear up to $15, without the slightest qualm. On petticoats, kimono and waists she is allowed $15 each before the luxury tax is imposed on the excess. When it comes to real "frillies," she will be at a disadvantage, for the stern law evidently frowns on the dainty silks a woman's heart adores, placing the limit at $5 on pajamas, nightgowns and underwear, for either sex, regardless of age.

Boots, shoes, pumps and slippers, are placed at a $10 limit; this, however, specifically excludes shoes made to order for any one having a crippled or deformed foot or ankle.

Fortunately for the women those $15 and $20 waistcoats for women weren't a la mode when the law was made; men are allowed only $5 for separate waistcoats.

The one great consolation lies in the fact that one can go out and buy a suit or dress knowing that "the sky's the limit."

However, it might be added—"Now is the time to do your Christmas shopping." Umbrellas, parasols, lighting fixtures and lamp shades, valises, rugs, come in for excess tax.

Practically everything else that one can think of as a possible gift, comes under a straight tax on the whole price.

Cosmetics, perfumes, soaps, mouth washes, and everything one must have on the toilet table, is taxed.

Candy also comes in for a tax. And the woman who makes candy at home and sells outside, must charge the customer for the tax levied by the government, according to N. C. Rochester in charge of the luxury division of the income tax office. This, he stated, would not include candies sold at bazaars for charitable purposes.

It is understood that the tax on candies in general will not affect the price of any of the high grade candies. Manufacturers, however, will probably add an additional 5 per cent to the selling price of some of the cheaper grades.

U. S. GETS BUSY.
(By United Press.)

Berkeley, Cal., Mar. 31.—If practice makes perfect, the University of California football team should take all western honors this fall.

Coach Andy Smith is already hard at work on the prospects for the next varsity, and strenuous practices are being held these days each week.

Through this early training, Smith hopes to offset the bracing Oregon and Washington University teams are to secure through the return of veterans from military service.

CARD OF THANKS.

We, the family desire to thank our kind neighbors and many friends for their help and sympathy shown us in the illness and sad death of our beloved brother and uncle, J. F. Beal. We wish to thank Rev. Beaver and Rev. Robinson for their kind words of comfort. We especially wish to thank the quartet for their beautiful singing, and all who contributed to the floral offerings.

MARCH RUNS TRUE TO FORM AND GOES OUT LIKE A LION

This winter may have been an unusual one, but far be it from March to destroy the customs of tradition.

With an eleventh hour start, the wind month registered in true "March Lion" style Sunday and finished up with a grand finale Monday that would do credit to any March day. And all this too, with April in the offing.

Hopes of bright weather were shattered Sunday when the day came to life cloudy, gloomy and chilly. The "lion" made itself much more in evidence last Sunday night and Monday morning when it ushered in a slight film of snow and freezing weather which continued with intermittent snow flurries and a cold north wind all day.

March might have entered like a lamb this year but it didn't forget to throw off its disguise just before the curtain went down. Back to the woollens!

Here is a perfect gem of misapprehension from a woman answering an advertisement for a French governess "au pair": "I know a little English, and could give easy, at once, lessons in French, for which I will be nourished, lying down and bleached, who, I think, are the conditions 'au pair.'" —Boston Transcript.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MISS CLARA WOLF

Funeral services for Miss Clara Wolf were held at the late home on the Upper Bellbrook pike Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, and were attended by a large concourse of friends and relatives.

The services were in charge of Rev. Beck. There was no music but Rev. Beck read two hymns that were favorites of Miss Wolf. Burial was made in Woodland Cemetery, the pallbearers being Harry Spahr, Herbert Gerlaugh, James Hawkins, Carl E. Buck, Elmer Graham and Frank McElwain.

THESE MEN WILL FIGHT TO ENTERTAIN FIGHTERS
(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Mar. 31.—Fred Fulton and Jeff Clark, the "fighting ghost," will be the headliners tonight at a boxing card arranged by the police department for the benefit of the returning soldiers and sailors.

Sam Langford, the "Boston tar baby," and William Meehan, a contender for heavy-weight honors, will also box four rounds.

Other bouts include: "K. O." Kravosky vs. Soldier Bartfield; Spider Roach vs. Willie Jackson, and Frankie Farren vs. Tommy Richards.

Public Sales

Have your sale announced FREE in this column early, so that you may claim your date and others will stay off of it. These ads are run every day and are gratis with the large display advertising. We also furnish sale bills without charge. Let us tell you about it.

PUBLIC SALE advertising in the Gazette and Republican bring the crowds in these days of automobile. The farmer has no time to stop along the road to read sale bills. He is coming to depend upon these papers to notify him of the sale of his articles to be offered for sale. It's the buyer from a distance who sees your ad in this paper, who jumps into his auto and hustles to your sale, who pays what your stuff is worth. Your neighbor no longer can stand around and pick off what he needs at an absurd price, as he does when you have not properly advertised, and gotten a good crowd. Use the Gazette and Republican if you want the worth of everything you offer. Don't try to save on your advertising.

PUBLIC SALE—April 2nd, at 11 o'clock at my home, 1/2 mile from the north end of West street, out the Towler road—6 horses, six head of cattle, hogs, many farm implements, household goods, chickens, feed, etc. R. R. Grieve, Auct. J. E. Sutton, clerk. N. C. P. C. BANKERD.

LAMB AND MUTTON

The difference of a few cents in the cost of a pound of meat frequently determines whether that meat appears on the table in many households. Yet that difference of a few cents just as frequently is caused by the limited knowledge of the housewife of the meat which she desires.

Take the cost of mutton and lamb; it is regarded as high. But the average housewife who so regards it speaks only in terms of chops and hind-quarters. The fore-quarters of mutton is just as dainty, just as full of flavor, just as eatable in every way if it is properly prepared. It also is many cents cheaper per pound.

Your butcher, if he is up-to-date, knows how to bone and roll a shoulder of lamb or mutton so that it may be cut into Saratoga chops or made into a roast of unusual sweetness.

Breeders of sheep have paid more attention to raising a better flavored meat in the last few years, and their efforts show clearly in the resulting product.

Some objectors to lamb and mutton say that they cannot eat it because of the "woolly taste," and that they know of no way to remove it. That is merely a case of pulling the wool over your own eyes. If the fell, or tough outer membrane that covers the meat, is removed, there will be no "woolly taste."

You are taking no chances when you order lamb. The healthfulness and strength-building qualities of this meat have long been recognized by physicians, who have prescribed its extensive use in the diet of convalescents.

These facts are worthy of your studied consideration. They have long had that from the most thoughtful housewife, as is attested by her continued buying.

"Daddy, what is that 'queer-looking crack' in your glasses?"

Observing daughter is not the only one who notices that "queer-looking crack" in Daddy's glasses. Everybody notices it. It mars his appearance; it makes him look old.

KRYPTOK GLASSES THE INVISIBLE BIFOCALS

Kryptoks (pronounced Crip-tokks), without that conspicuous age-revealing "crack" or seam, give the convenience of NEAR and FAR vision in one pair of glasses. There is not the slightest trace of a seam or hump.

The two powers (the lower for close work, and the upper for distance) are joined together in one solid, smooth, crystal-clear piece. Notwithstanding the fact that Kryptoks look exactly like single-vision glasses, they enable you to see both near and far with equally keen vision.

That's why they are known everywhere as the "invisible bifocals."

Call and let us give you further information concerning these universally approved bifocals.

Birds Not Man's Enemies.
It is a fact that if it were not for the bird life we would starve to death. The great natural enemy of man is any force that will destroy his food-stuffs. Every field is the home of thousands of insects, and agricultural reports will verify the fact that each year millions of dollars' worth of crops are destroyed by insects. And the birds are the natural enemies of the insect pest.

IF BACKACHEY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out Kidneys—Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from back-ache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water, drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

PEPSINCO

Thousands of cases of dyspepsia BUT ONLY ONE

PEPSINCO

PEPSINCO is the only indigestion remedy that we know—and we know lots of so called dyspepsia cures—that will almost infallibly relieve an attack of indigestion, food distress or gas. We could almost make claims, that would appear impossible, so seldom does this PEPINCO fail. But why not consider the recommendation of thousands of people who have used PEPINCO on the basis of their belief in it. Try it yourself. We are sure that the suggestion will appeal to you—you who suffer with indigestion or stomach faults—try PEPIN

MYSTERY SURROUNDS INJURY OF SMALL BOY

Mystery surrounds the serious injury received by Gordon Hargrave, 5 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrave of Sabina, while the lad was playing at the home of a neighbor lad, Aaron Lieuelen, 8 years old. The Lieuelen lad said that he found the smaller child unconscious at the foot of the stairway and when he failed to revive after water was dashed over him he loaded him on a toy wagon and took him to a doctor's office.

He denies that they had a gun and sticks to his original story, although a specialist removed from the lad's temple particles which resembled fragments of a leaden bullet. The child is not expected to recover.

"I HAD AN AWFUL STOMACH" SAID GRANT NEER

But He Said Something Very Different When Nerv-Worth Made Him Over.

Read the signed statement of this well-known man of Route 2, South Vernon. The reasons for his enthusiasm is certainly well founded. They were given to Springfield's Nerv-Worth druggists:

Troupe Drug Co.—After having been troubled for fifteen years with stomach trouble and after trying many doctors and some patent medicines I think you will be interested to learn that after trying a few bottles of Nerv-Worth which I purchased at your pharmacy I am greatly relieved. Before taking Nerv-Worth my stomach was in awful shape. Gas formed and I was a great sufferer of indigestion. My bowels were in great disorder. Could not sleep at night. Had to vomit often. But now I am in fine shape and will continue to take Nerv-Worth and gladly recommend it to any one that is troubled as I was.

HAVE YOU BEEN OVERWORKED

Do You Want Help Until Nature Catches Up? Are Your Nerves Ill?
Cadomene Tablets Help Nervous Men and Weak, Improperly Fed Women Back to Strength, Health and Vigor.

In these strenuous, exacting times, many men and women overwork their nerves. They do not take enough rest. They are not careful when and what they eat. Soon they get nervous, irritable, suffer from aches and pains, are tired all the time, have no ambition, lose strength and vigor and then become sleepless, worn out, and sick. Never take to drink and false stimulants—they are temporary makeshifts. But do not act wisely, and begin the use of Cadomene Tablets, which act as a powerful tonic for digestion, nutrition, and elimination. They help nature to perform the functions of the organs of the body and nature will in turn restore strength, red blood and vigor. Sold by druggists everywhere—and guaranteed to be satisfactory in every sense by the manufacturers.—Adv.

EAST END NEWS

The Ladies Culture Club is about to establish a day nursery in the East End for the benefit of mothers who work away from home in the day time. They expect to rent a house centrally located to house the children in and at the beginning the members consecutively will donate a day to the oversight of the nursery. Each member of the Club has been assessed for the financial obligations and already the public purse has responded in its behalf. Mrs. Magnolia B. Lytle turned over fifty dollars which has been contributed toward this very worthy and beneficent movement.

The club is promised more support from responsible citizens and it looks like it will be a matter of a very short while when they can put some interested person like Mrs. Lytle, in permanent charge of it on a reasonable salary. The nursery will be in charge of a board of directors from the membership of the club. Now that this club has initiated the movement, it is hoped that they will carry it forward with success and not try to federalize it even locally because they might fatally disagree in trying to get the other clubs to understand or accept their plans. Another splendid movement for the erection of a hall failed here several years ago in trying to get the Masons, Odd Fellows and K. of P.'s to see the same thing—the economic value of the project. This club deserves the best wishes of the entire community in launching such a meritorious movement. May such clubs live and their good influence be boundless.

Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Hawkins were at home in honor of Capt. W. T. Darrell and wife, Thursday P. M., 8 to 12. Friends from Springfield and Xenia were among the invited guests. The occasion was in keeping with the patriotic spirit of the season. U. S. flags were prominent among the decorations. A most delicious four course dinner was served, consisting of fruit cocktail, roast goose, chicken patties, peas in potato nest, hot rolls and butter, butterfly salad, wafers, patriotic ice cream, Victory cake, mints. After dinner Dr. Hawkins leading, toasts were given by a few of the guests. The evening was richly enjoyed by all present.

A number of Xenians attended the Victory concert at Memorial Hall, in Springfield, Friday night. The concert was given by the 370th "Black Devil" regiment band of Chicago, under the auspices of Center Street Y. M. C. A. They were ably assisted by Lieut. S. S. Gordon, who described the "48th going over the top" Frank Dinnie, tenor soloist. Chas. H. Brady, cornet virtuoso, and Anita Patti Brown, prima donna. The large hall was filled with an enthusiastic audience.

Mrs. Arthur Wilson and little son, Cecil, from Mt. Pleasant, Kentucky, were called here to the bedside of her father, Mr. Mat Payne, on East Main street because of his serious illness.

Best When Fully Ripe.
The exuberance of beauty in woman does not reach its climax before the age of 35 or 40. Helen, the great Greek beauty, was 48 years old when she came to Troy. Aspasia did not become the friend of Pericles before the age of 37, and long after that she was admired as the most beautiful woman of her time. Cleopatra was over 30 when Antonius fell in love with her, and Diana de Poitiers over 35 when she won the heart of Henry II.

BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS

Have you noticed the rugged, healthy, complexion of our soldier boys—their elastic step, and strong, manly bearing. This condition is due to outdoor life, plenty of exercise, regular habits and wholesome food.
Your responsibilities may not permit you to work, live and play outdoors. You may have to grind away at a machine, a desk, or other employment, until your condition becomes stale. Indigestion, constipation, headaches and general debility follow. Your liver and kidneys fail to act properly and your blood becomes poor and sluggish. Don't be a health-slacker. Take Bliss Native Herb Tablets. They will relieve constipation, remove indigestion, help to prevent rheumatism and make you fit. Look for trade mark. Our money back guarantee on every box.

CHURCH PRESENTS ITS RETIRING PASTOR WITH HANDSOME GIFT

In appreciation of his six years of faithful work in the parish, and as a testimonial of its good will, and hope that he will be restored to health in the southwest, the congregation of St. Brigid's church presented to its retiring pastor, the Rev. James E. Quinn, a gift of nearly $800.

The purse was presented to the pastor Saturday night by a delegation of men, and it was increased later by additional subscriptions and is still growing.

The congregational gift was augmented by the presentation of a separate purse of $50 from the children of the parish school.

The pastor was called to the school Sunday afternoon, and a little entertainment of songs, recitations, and instrumental music was given by the high school and grades in his honor. At the close an original song composed for the occasion was sung by some of the smaller children, and little Frances Grottenick and Gertrude Hoeffler stepped forward and presented the purse and a big bouquet of flowers to the pastor. This was the crowning of the day's surprises, and Father Quinn was deeply affected by the act of the young folks.

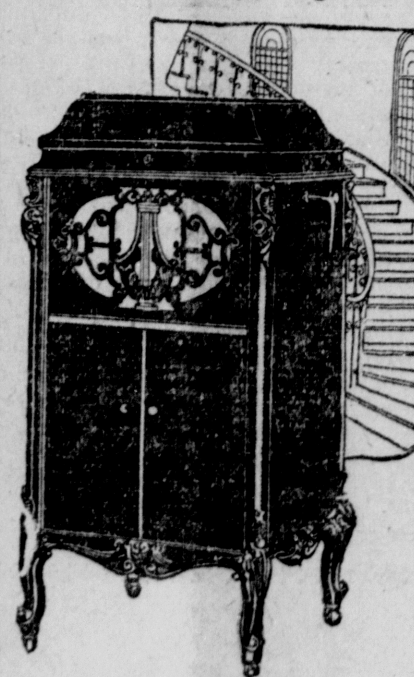

Throughout his leisure hours Sunday, the pastor was busy receiving members of the congregation who called to say good by and to wish him God speed on his journey, and extend their wishes for his restoration to health.

Father Quinn who is leaving for Albuquerque, N. M., next Friday evening, bade farewell to his congregation at the morning services Sunday, and extended his sincere thanks for the gift, which touched him deeply. Both pastor and people were very much affected. Father Quinn will spend today and tomorrow at his father's home in Middletown, and will return here to prepare for his departure on his western trip. Leaving here Friday night he will stop over Sunday in Chicago.

The Rev. Albert Burke, of Milford, will succeed Father Quinn to the pastorate of the local church, and will be here the last of this week to take up his pastoral duties.

WAR SONG "OVER THERE" PLAYED AT HIS FUNERAL

Because of his love for the stirring melody, the war song "Over There," was played on the phonograph at the funeral of B. J. Middleton, prominent farmer, which took place at the late home on the Wilmington pike, Saturday morning.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Plotz of Bowersville. The hymns "Rock of Ages" and "Asleep in Jesus" were sung by Rev. Lynn, and then the "Over There" record was placed on the phonograph and played as he had many a time enjoyed hearing it.

Interment was made in Woodland and the pallbearers were: Raymond, Orville, M. J., T. H. and T. E. Middleton, and Earl Babb.

Mr. H. A. Van Pelt,
Krug's Bakery.

Dear Sir:—

Since I have been using your bread I have increased my bread orders almost double more than with the bread I was previously using, and it is not only perfectly satisfactory, but has been the means of increasing my grocery business considerably, as many come into my store who never came before.

I want to recommend you and your bread to all who wish to increase their business and to have bread that is more than satisfactory.

Very truly yours,
J. E. HENLEY.

We have many more of the same kind—

KRUG'S BREAD BUTTER NUT or HOLSUM

Is making warm friends whenever it is introduced—we repeat the statement we have so often made—

Krug's Bread is different from ordinary bread, yet it costs you not one cent more.

Mr. Henley's letter proves its truth.
